Spring Fair

Gift-giving is a significant source of income for many of our kitchenware exhibitors, and we've seen a real emphasis on this over the past year. ... from almost Always now won't look out of place in a boutique or design shop and is doing brilliantly in all sorts of retailers," says Charlene. User Weathers, which designs a range of textiles, including kitchen towels, has "an emphasis on gift packaging to encourage impulse purchases," says Charlene, adding that "a beautifully packaged tea towel is a low-cost but a dinner party or very easy to send as a gift. At such a price many impulse purchase gift packaging helping the tourism sector."

Martin at Derby porcelain says Derby's James Martin collection with its 'design' designed premium pack as a range launched to the gift market, and has discovered that orders come from its address ranges, at children, mug and cup sets, and jugs, "when packaging attractive, we have success in the cooktop retail area."

As for the future of the category, Kitchen Craft says it is seeing the giftable kitchenware category "steadily on the up," while Martin "anticipates further growth in this category," adding that "Derby will continue to
