Design Source

There is a mysterious power in the power of this world, which supports this order, merges and influences each other, just like every plant fragrance is endowed with different temperaments represent each person's character and pursuit

Each piece of work has to go through a year-long development process before it is produced, during which countless sketches need to be drawn, and the color details must be repeatedly considered before design and production.

Made through lots of steps, from its rich and fusion of colors, unique and classic shapes, each finished product is unique and classic

When you light the wick in the scented candle jar, seeing the flickering texture of the weaving, will you have a lot of thoughts, and all the good memories will be intertwined?

The creative inspiration of woven texture can inspire rich imagination and instantly knit into a splendid mirror picture roll
