Choose thick and transparent glass. It feels heavy in hand and is stable and elegant when placed on the table. The red glass comes with its own filter, making the candlelight shine through even more gently.

When glass meets the inspiration of Moroccan architecture, the geometric patterns on the jar body seem to be enchanted - red, blue and gold interweave to form symmetrical and dynamic patterns, as if all the sunlight and starry sky of the North African courtyard are sealed in this container.

When the candles are not lit, this glass candle jar is a "breathing work of art". After being lit, the candlelight diffused through the red glass, and the patterns flickered in and out of the light, even the air was tinted with a romantic exotic flavor.
